

TROUBLE ON THE TITANIC

Written and Illustrated by Drew Stewart

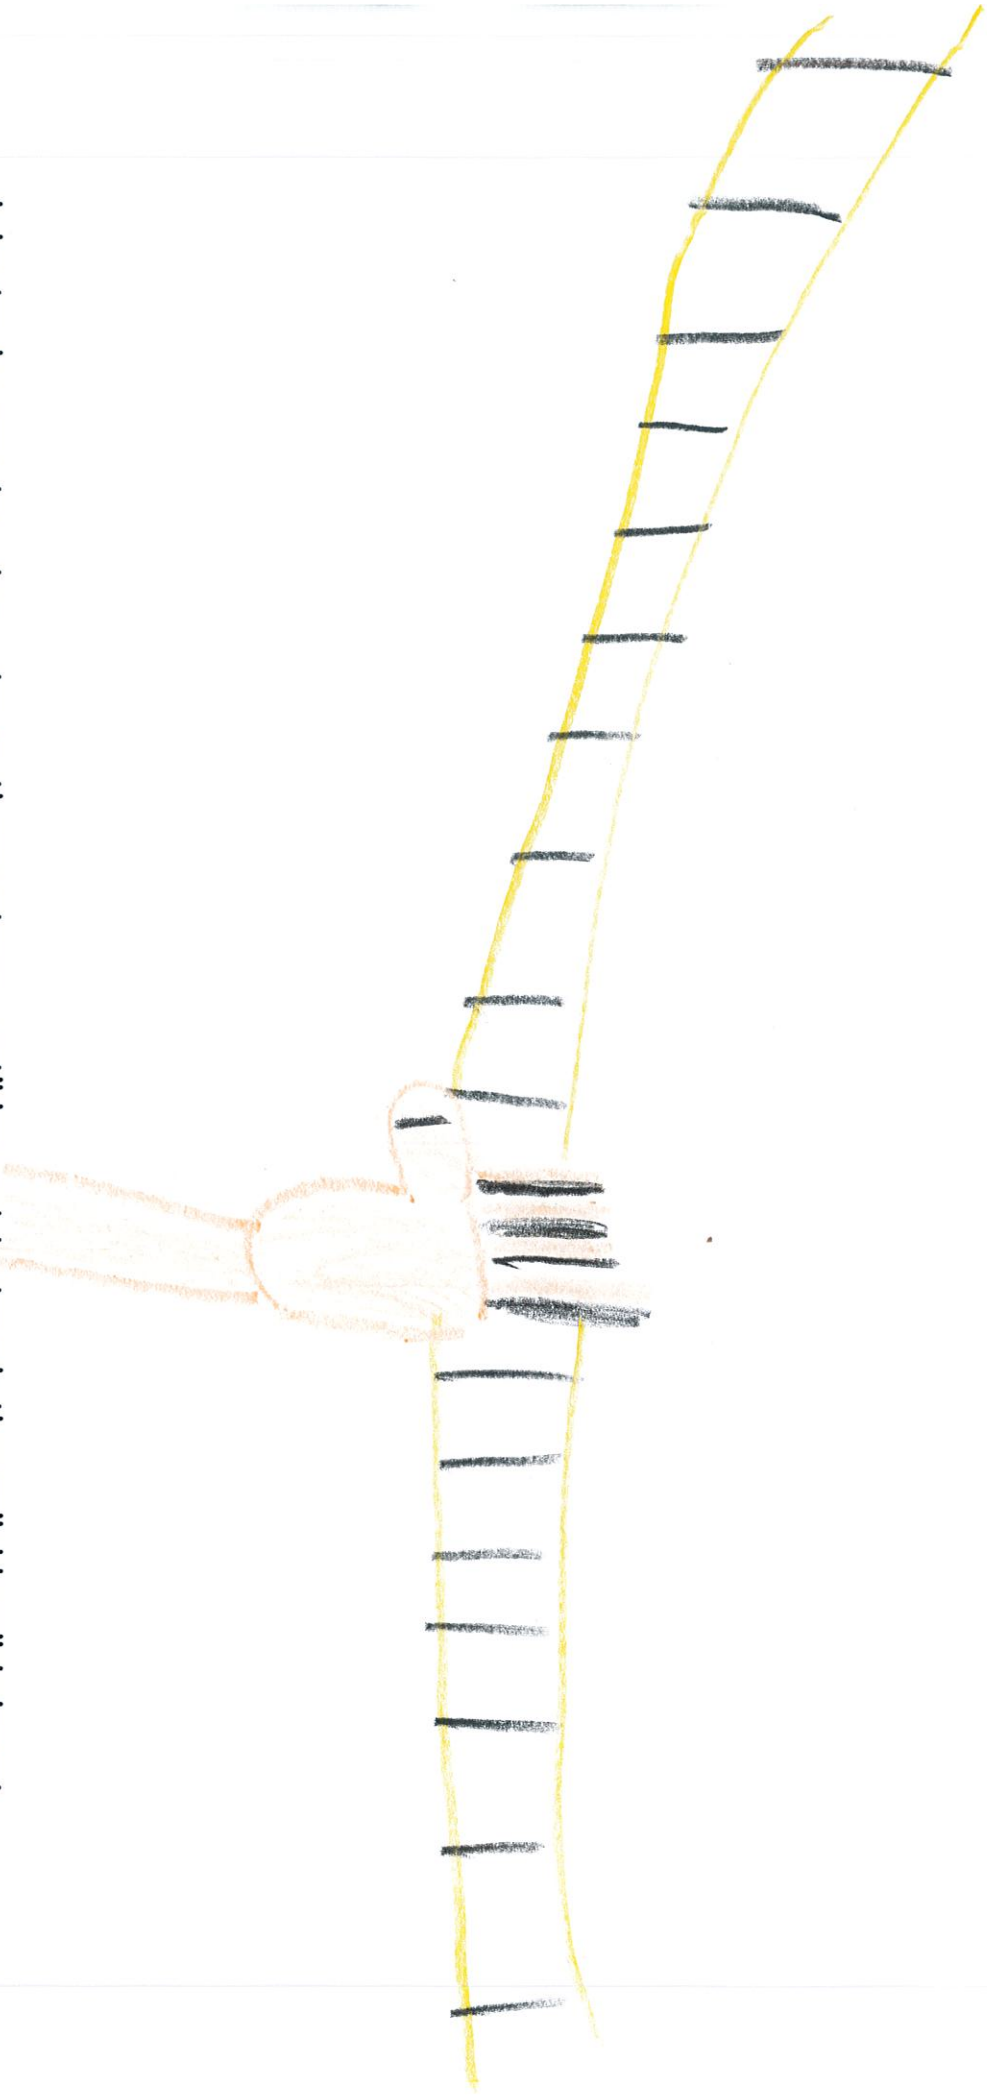

Crash! The waves splash against the ship! Jake gets on the Titanic.

Father says, "Mother and I will go to second class. Stay right here, Jake."

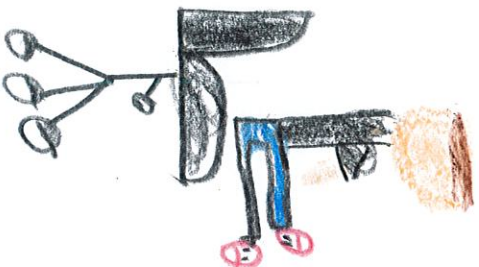

Meanwhile, Jake gets bored. This time he gets into more mischief than ever before! It happened at the grand staircase. When he peeked around the corner, he saw the grand staircase. He opened his mouth wide, and his eyes twinkled.

Jake took one step, two steps, three steps, until he got to touch the rail. He slid down!

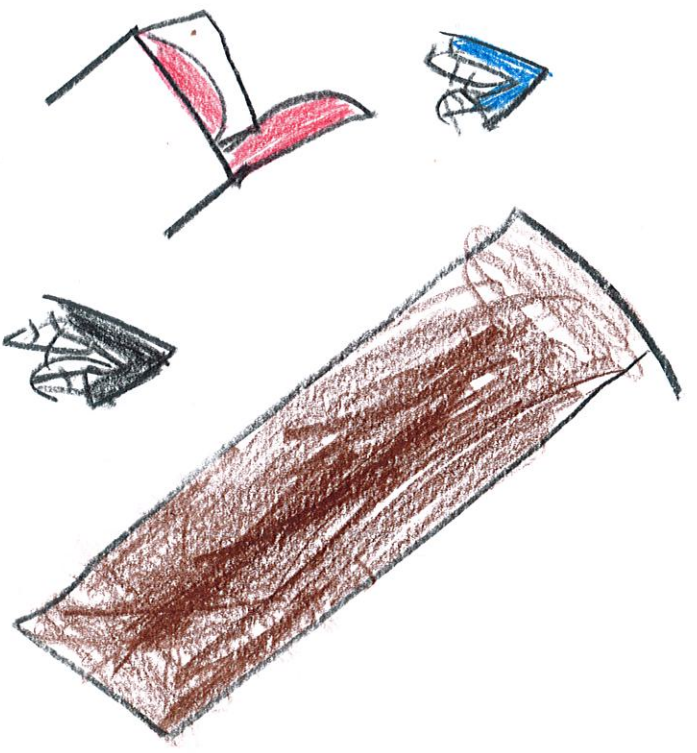

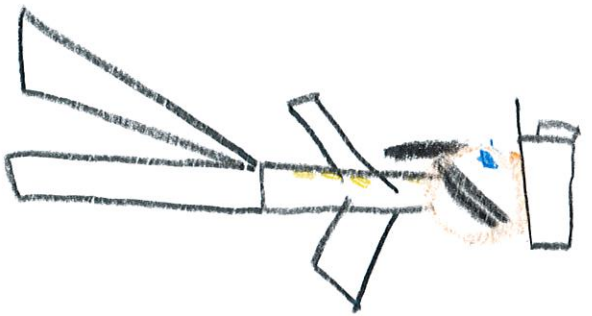

When he slid down he landed in a roly chair! Jake rolled around the hall. Captain Edward Smith caught him.

“Don’t do that again!” said Captain Smith.

He took Jake around the ship to see the different boiler rooms. After that, Captain Smith took Jake to steer the ship.

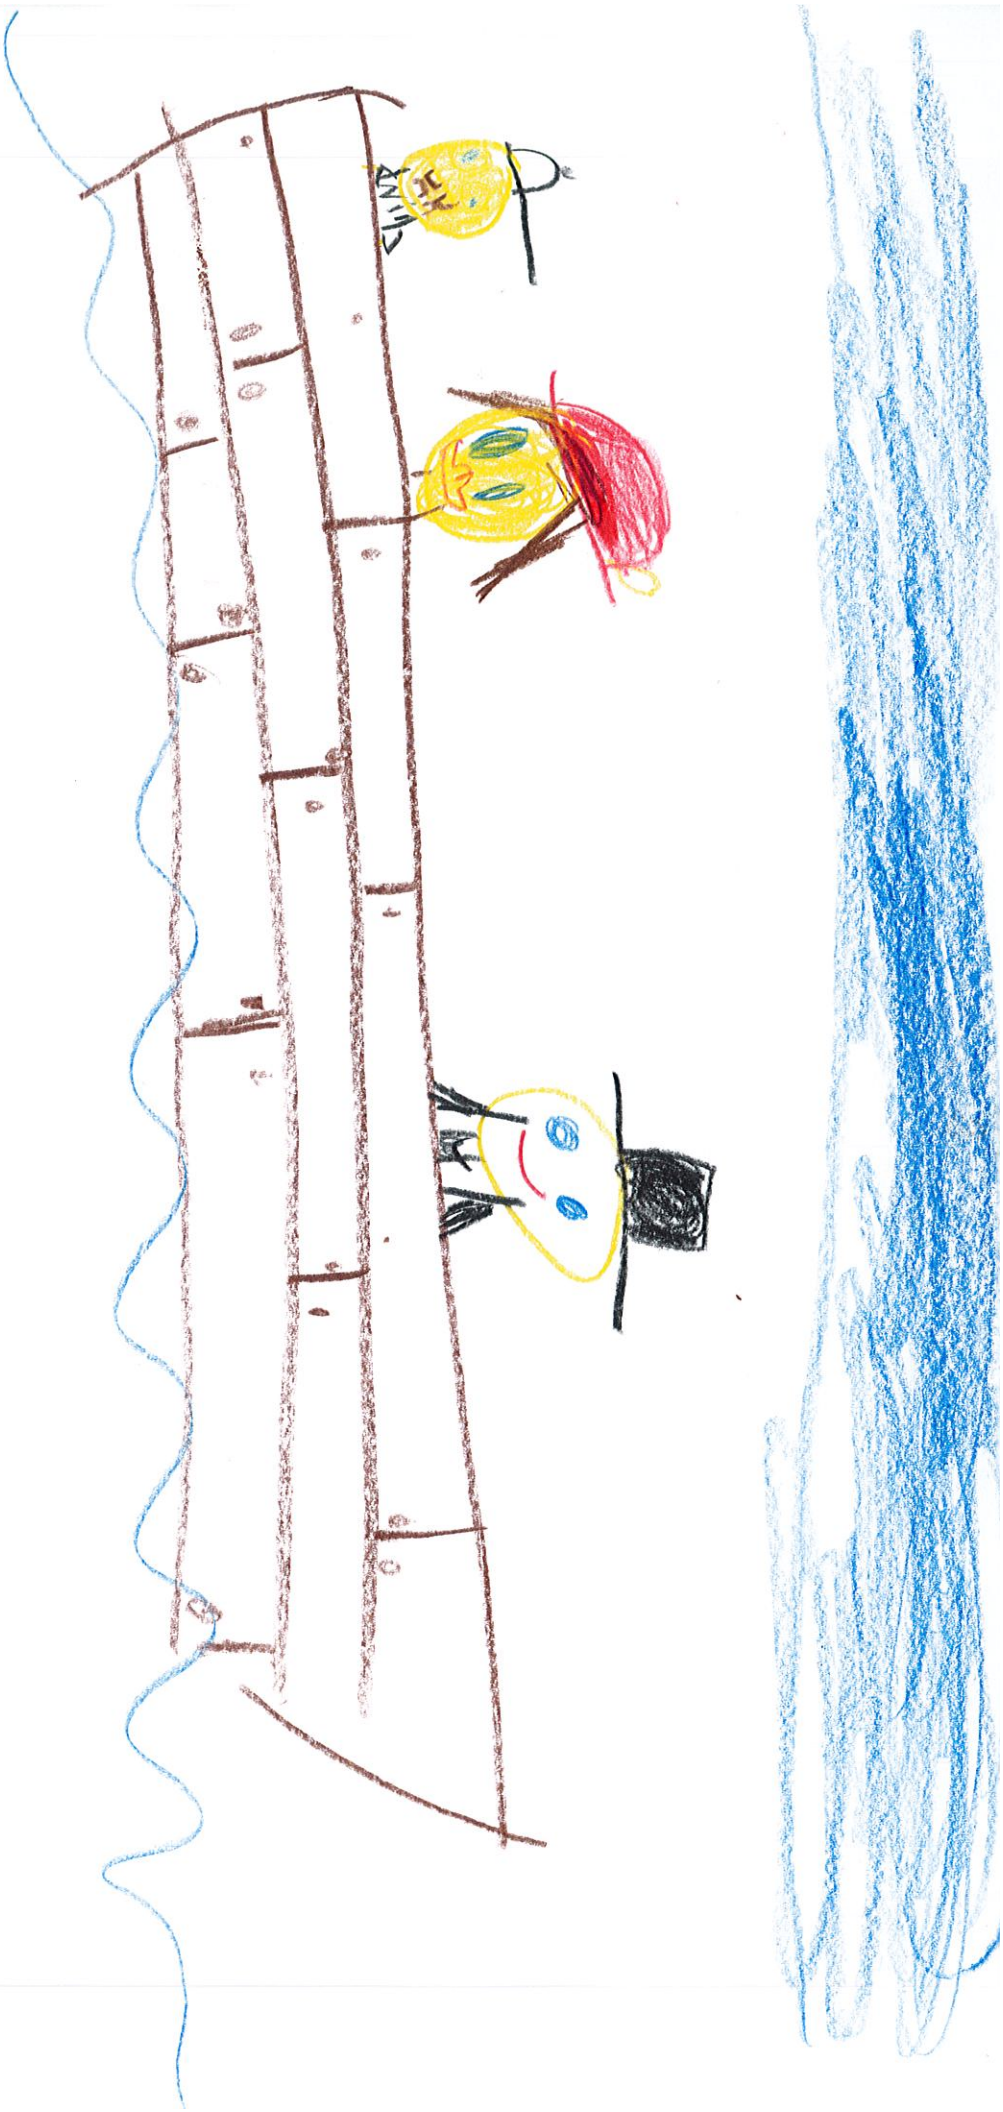

Then they heard a crashing sound from one of the boiler rooms! Jake steered the boat towards iceberg alley! Creak! Everybody began to fall. The Titanic was sinking!

Captain Smith ran to save the people. Water was starting to fill the bedrooms. Mother and Father ran to save Jake.

They grab Jake and run to the lifeboats. They were saved from the sinking of the Titanic!
